Common Agenda

Council and Commissions as partners in establishing a common understanding of each problem with a joint approach to a solution:

- Most boards are expressing the same problems within the community they serve.
 - Are we talking to each other?
 - Are we sharing barriers, challenges and opportunities?

Mutually Reinforming Activities

Engaging in activities that are specific to the Council or Commission but will mutually reinforce a partnership that will amplify each boards impact and contribute to the common goal:

- Are board members attending other council and commission meetings?
- Are boards sharing events, activities and meetings within their supports network?
- Are boards communicating upcoming events and activities with one another? Are they attending?

Continuous Communication

Consistent communication is critical to ensure trust is built, understanding of mutual objectives, and sustained motivation:

- How often are chairs and board members communicating with other boards?
 - Are boards inviting one another to present?
